Art Unit: 2833

Claims 1-11 are objected to because of the following informalities: in claim 1, last line, "towards" should be -- into --. In claim 4, line 6, -- each of -- should be inserted after "through". In claim 9 it is unclear what the "escaping portions" are. Appropriate correction is required.

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1 and 3 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Nitta 6500029 in view of Ichimura et al 4611867.

Nitta discloses housing 4 on one surface of board 1, conductive contacts having protruding contacting portions 3, and conductive ground plates 5 having terminal portions 9 arranged in a staggered pattern. The terminal portions, however, do not protrude into the board in a press-fit. Ichimura et al discloses ground plates 21, 36 having press-fit portions 22a, 30a, and to form ground plates 5 of Nitta with press-fit portions thus would have been obvious, for better securement to the board.

Claim 2 is objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Claims 12-14 are allowed.

Claims 4-11 contain subject matter which defines over the art of record.

Art Unit: 2833

The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter: none of the prior art of record discloses a housing having ground plates combined with one another in a lattice fashion, the ground plates having terminal portions extending into the board.

The other references cited on Form 892 disclose similar grounding structures.
